

Pre-lecture activity 1

Welcome to Lecture 5. In this lecture, you will explore the framework of Global Englishes Language Teaching (GELT). Before proceeding to watch the lecture video, please familiarise yourself with the technical terms that will be referred to in the lecture.

- Interlocutor: someone who participates in a conversation
 - TESOL (Teaching of English to Speakers of Other Languages): teaching the English language to learners whose first language is not English
 - Paradigm: a set of theories and practices underpinning scientific research conducted in a specific discipline
 - Paradigm shift: a fundamental change in approach or underlying assumptions
 - SLA (second language acquisition): the process by which people learn a second language
 - Intelligible: an adjective used to describe whether communication can be understood by an interlocutor
-